

I grow brands the way I used to run kitchens: with taste, timing, and consistency.

Digital marketer based in Orlando, FL, with 8+ years across social strategy, paid media, email automation, and web. I build brands that people notice, trust, and buy from, and I measure every step.

- Orlando, FL
- English / Español
- Social Strategy
- Paid Media
- Email & Lifecycle
- Web Design
- Content & Copy

42K+

Facebook followers grown organically for Crocante

8+ yrs

hands-on digital marketing across B2B and consumer brands

$11.3K

monthly combined ad spend managed across clients

10+ yrs

leading professional kitchens and events

About

I built my career in two disciplines that turn out to have a lot in common. For more than a decade I worked as an Executive Sous Chef, Chef and Event Planner, and Banquet Chef, where I learned how a business really runs: the pace of service, what makes a product worth talking about, and what customers respond to when they say "feels right."

Since 2018, I have applied that instinct to digital marketing. I have built social strategy, websites, paid campaigns, and email automation for restaurants, a multi-concept restaurant group, a historic hotel, and most recently a luxury outdoor lighting company serving homeowners and trade partners.

Across every client, the approach is the same: understand the product well enough to market it honestly, test what works, and show up consistently until people notice.

Based in	Orlando, FL
Most recent role	Digital Marketing Lead, Nightscape Designs
Languages	English, Spanish (fluent)
Focus areas	Social, paid media, email automation, web, content

Selected work

Five engagements, from leading digital strategy for a luxury B2B and B2C brand, to growing a restaurant page to 42,000+ followers, to steering a historic property through Covid.

One

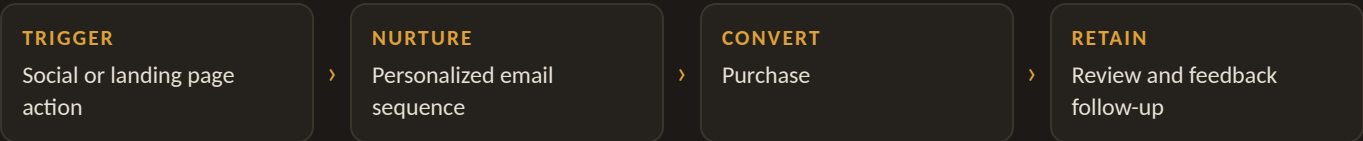

Nightscape Designs

Dec 2025 to Sept 2026

Digital Marketing Lead (Remote, Denver, CO)

Led digital marketing strategy for a luxury outdoor lighting company, owning social media, website design and management, brand presence, paid advertising, and email. Much of the business came through trade partners, including real estate developers, pool contractors, and landscape designers, so every channel had to earn trust with two audiences at once: homeowners and the trades.

I built automated email journeys in ActiveCampaign that responded to what prospects actually did. Nurture sequences were triggered by social and landing page activity, and post-purchase flows collected reviews and feedback. I coordinated with product, UX, and engineering teams to keep messaging consistent across every touchpoint.

AI-ASSISTED CONTENT WORKFLOW

Built a production workflow that let a small team produce at high volume: Claude and ChatGPT for research, brainstorming, and drafting; Canva AI for graphics and text placement over real fixture video footage; ActiveCampaign AI for personalized emails and nurture sequences; and Gemini for checking documents for errors and structure.

B2B + B2C

trade partners and homeowners

5

AI tools in the production workflow

End to end

social, web, paid, and email ownership

- Marketing automation
- B2B trade marketing
- Paid advertising
- Website management
- AI workflows

Two

Crocante Kitchen + Bar

Dec 2022 to Aug 2025

Freelance Digital Marketer

One of my most successful engagements, and the first where I had complete creative control. Crocante started as a food truck, and I worked with ownership on a grand-opening campaign built partly around that origin story, which produced a highly successful opening for the brick-and-mortar restaurant.

From there, I built a content calendar, owned copywriting and graphic design, and pushed for a video-first approach that grew the Facebook page to 42,000+ followers, almost entirely through organic strategy. I grew reach further by engaging with other Orlando food pages, and linked Instagram, Facebook, and TikTok directly to the restaurant's online reservations, connecting social growth to real bookings.

PROOF POINT: TESTING WHETHER ADS WERE REALLY DRIVING REVENUE

Crocante's volume was growing, but it was still spending heavily on Meta ads for brand awareness. I designed an incrementality test that scaled ad spend back in planned increments over three months while tracking revenue closely.

Result: the restaurant kept growing its clientele as spend went down, saving thousands of dollars in marketing costs without sacrificing business.

42K+

Facebook followers, grown organically

3 mo

incrementality test on Meta spend

2.5+ yrs

consistent content calendar

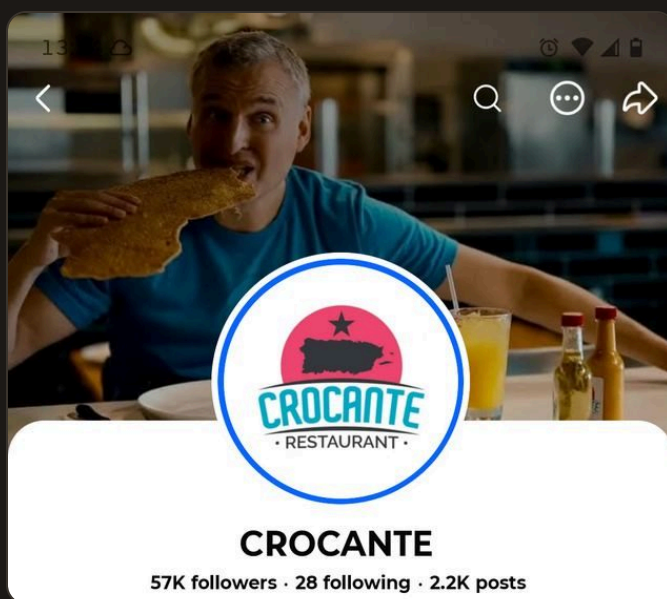

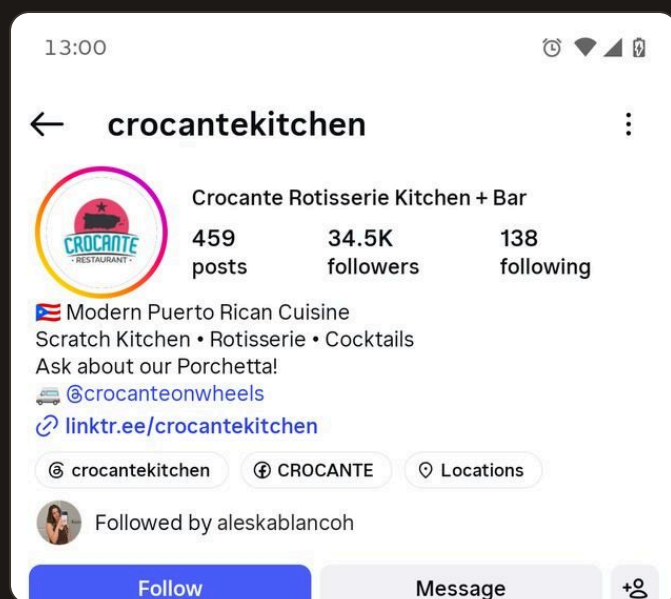

Organic growth

Video-first content

Incrementality testing

Grand opening campaign

Social-to-reservation funnel

@crocantekitchen on Instagram and Facebook

Three

The Drake Kitchen + Bar

Grand opening Feb 22, 2024

Freelance Digital Marketer and Web Designer

The Drake is owned by a chef who made the move from a food truck to a brick-and-mortar restaurant in downtown Orlando. I built the restaurant's website from scratch on Popmenu, then took over social media to promote the grand opening.

The brand story centered on what made The Drake distinct: its downtown Orlando location, a seasonal, local-ingredient cooking style, and the founder's own journey. After launch, I kept a steady stream of content reels promoting events and a changing menu. The restaurant was later featured by Taste! Central Florida.

0 to 1

website built from scratch

Feb '24

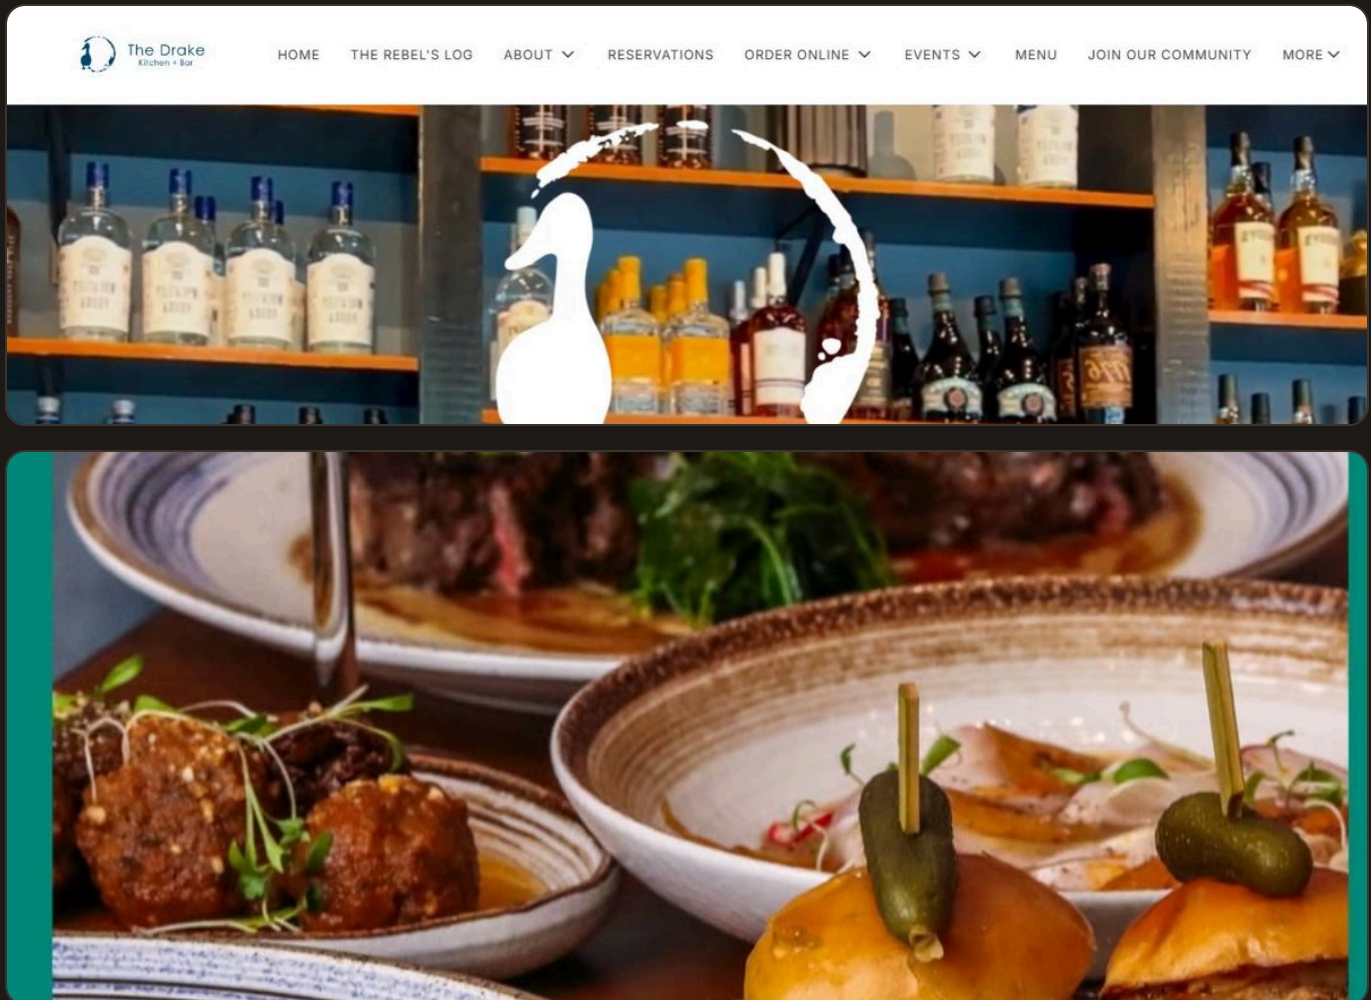

grand opening launch owned

Website build (Popmenu)

Launch campaign

Brand storytelling

Recurring content reels thedrakeorl.com, and the Taste! Central Florida feature

Four

The Wellborn

Apr 2020 to 2022

Freelance Digital Marketer

The Wellborn is a historic boutique hotel that built a restaurant on the property to diversify. I started in April 2020, at the height of Covid, when business was down and the property had no real social strategy or recognition as an Orlando landmark.

I redesigned the website to put the culinary program front and center and shifted content toward food photography and video, giving the restaurant its own identity. Over two years, Instagram followers grew 30%.

+30%

Instagram follower growth

2 yrs

engagement, starting mid-Covid

Website redesign

Crisis turnaround

Content strategy

Food photography and video thewellbornorlando.com site redesign

Five

Good Salt Restaurant Group

2018 to 2020

Social Media Coordinator, Digital Marketing Team

Part of a five-person team building content and a consistent brand voice across Good Salt's full collection of Orlando restaurants. During my time there, the group opened two new restaurants, Reyes Mezcalería and The Monroe, and our team owned social media and websites for both from day one.

2

new restaurant launches owned

5

person marketing team

Multi-brand strategy

Launch support

Facebook and Instagram growth

Skills and tools

Hands-on experience across the full marketing stack, managing up to $11,300 per month in combined ad spend across several clients and leading small in-house marketing teams.

Paid media

Meta Ads Manager (7+ yrs), Google Ads Search (4 to 6 yrs), TikTok, Pinterest, Snapchat, and X (3+ yrs)

Social and scheduling

Meta Business Suite, Hootsuite, Later, native scheduling tools and platform insights

Web

Squarespace, Wix, Popmenu, enterprise CMS

AI tools

Claude, ChatGPT, Gemini, Canva AI, ActiveCampaign AI

Email and automation

HubSpot, ActiveCampaign, Klaviyo, Mailchimp, Salesforce

Design and video

Canva, Adobe Creative Suite, CapCut, short-form video direction

SEO and analytics

Google Analytics, Google Search Console, Ahrefs, SEMrush, Moz, local rank tracking, technical and on-page audits

Events

Corporate events, tasting dinners, festivals; Eventify and Whova

Education and certifications

Bachelor's degree, Virginia Commonwealth University

Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness, minor in History

Google Skillshop

Fundamentals of Digital Marketing (2024)

University of Memphis

Hospitality Management Certification (2019)

Let's build something worth posting about.

Open to digital marketing roles and select freelance projects in social strategy, paid media, email, web, and brand storytelling.

Metromythos@gmail.com

407-272-9426